Our clients, George and Silvia, had their wills and trusts prepared about 15 years ago, when their children were minors. They were happy when they heard that in 2010 there would be no federal estate tax. Unfortunately, their trusts were drafted to say that only property qualifying for the marital deduction would pass to the Marital Trust. But there is no marital deduction as such in 2010. If George dies in 2010, any property intended for his wife's Marital Trust, would pass to other beneficiaries. That is a big problem!

Let PETRELLA BROWN PLC review your trusts for possible problems associated with the 2010 Federal Estate Tax repeal for FREE. Now is the time to review your estate plan to make sure you and your family are protected. Please call us today at 248.223.9883 to arrange for a FREE review with this postcard.
